

Katrinka Duckworth is the founder of Harmon Business Consulting. She is a business coach and consultant for small businesses. As a coach, Katrinka teaches business owners new skills, helps them determine root causes of problems they are facing, and identify solutions to help them move forward. As a consulting, she works with business owners to develop strategies to address specific challenges such as workforce planning and management and developing systems to strengthen their business and help them scale.

Katrinka has over 20 years of experience working in corporate America in business operations and human resources. After working in corporate America for many years, Katrinka Duckworth gained a vast amount of business experience and knowledge from the VPs with whom she worked closely every day. She learned best practices and gain expertise that she knew would be valuable to small business owners and aspiring entrepreneurs in our communities. That inspired her to found Harmon Business Consulting in 2007.

Katrinka earned her bachelor's degree in Business, Master's Degree in Human Resources, and MBA from the University of Maryland Global Campus. Katrinka is also a certified Professional in Human Resources (PHR).
